Up to this time no action has been taken to carry out the provisions of the law, and it is for this reason that property holders and others who would be affected by the extension of the Avenue are anxious that work in that direction

aould begin as soon as possible.

A few weeks ago when the matter was called to the attention of the Commis-sioners by a formal letter from one of the citizens of the section, the matter was laid before the Attorney for the District, and he reported that the extension of Pennsylvania Avenue was one of the improvements provided for in 1899, in which the courts of the District which the courts of the District of the deceased, where the funer beld that the assessment was illegal. place this afternoon at I o'clock.

The particular case in point was the ex-tension of Eleventh Street, and the set-tlement of the questions involved, it is expected, will be passed upon by the Su-preme Court of the United States before the end of the present year. Meantime, the Attorney said his office is so much employed in taking care of the details of the streets already opened or about to be opened, that it has no time to look after those pertaining to Pennsylvania Avenue hose pertaining to Pennsylvania Avenue In one of the extensions of the northwest section several hundred pieces of proper-ty abut on the proposed improvement, and the Attorney informed the Commis-sioners that it would be a moral impos-sibility for the present force of his office to accomplish the work attendant upon the street improvements if they should prenticeship in the Business-Knowledge of and Care Against con otive Whistles at Brookland

A delegation representing the Barbers' Union of the District called upon Commissioner Macfarland yesterday to lay before him the claims of a bill introduced in the House at the last session of Congress "To regulate the practice of barbering in the District of Columbia." The committee was composed of A. C. Luber, R. J. Campbell, John W. Dabney, and George Stone. They brought a copy of the bill with them and explained its main provisions to the Commissioner, asking him to recommend its passage to the committees in Congress and to use his best efforts to secure its enactment. They stated that the bill would do as much to protect the general public as it would to benefit the barber's business. The bill provides in the first place that no one shall be allowed to follow the profession of barber in the District without first taking out a license. It provides in the second place for a commission of five persons to examine applicants for license and specifies their duties. The bill also others. For conviction of crime, for habitual drunkenness, for gross incompetency, or for contagious disease the Commissioners may order the license of any barber rewoked. The object of the bill is to secure competent barbers for the business in the District and to avoid the spread of contagious skin diseases in the barber's

The committee also informed the Com-missioner that in the States of Missouri, Michigan, Minnesota, Massachusetts, Ore go, Nebraska, and Tennessee a similar law has been enacted, and that the passage of such a law is pending in the States of Iowa, Pennsylvania, New York, Virginia, Wisconsin, and Washington. Commissioner Macfarland told the committee that he would give the matter his attention and do what was for the best in reference to the proposed measure.

Andrew B. Duvall, the Attorney for the District, yesterday submitted to the Commissioners his opinion upon the application of Charles H. Armes requesting permission to make a subdivision of lots 155 to 160, inclusive. These lots, the Attorney says, are situated at the corner of Sixteenth Street extended and Kenesaw Avenue, and are within the area of assessment for ben-efits in the widening of Columbia Road and ents in the waters. He informs the Com-missioners that the jury of condemnation in that case has filed its award and has assessed each of these lots for benefits, though the award has not been confirmed by the court. Continuing, the Attorney

eays:
"The question for consideration is whether property abutting upon or adja-cent to a street which it is proposed to condemn may be subdivided by its owner. The only objection suggested is that by this process the description of the prop-erty liable to be subjected to assessment for benefits may be changed. Certainly the owner of property under such circumstances does not lose dominion over his land or his rights of property therein. His property is nerely subjected to the possi-fillty of assessment.

"It is not within the power of the property owner to subdivide his land so as to remove any portion of it from the assessment area, as, for instance, by making a narrow subdivision lot abut upon the pro-posed extension, and thus remove the remainder of his tract from the category of abutting property. When a proceeding is instituted for the condemnation of land for a highway all property affected therefor a highway all properly affected there-by and liable to assessment for benefits is bound as in its then state from the date of the institution of the proceedings. In the present condemnation case the jury assesses benefits against said lots as they were at the beginning of the proceedings. "I am of the opinion that the proposed subdivision as certified and recommended by the Surveyor should be allowed to be recorded in his office."

N. D. Malone, of Brookland, D. C., recently sent a communication to the Com-missioners stating that residents of Brookland had sent a petition to the officials of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad requesting them to cause the blowing of whistles of locomotives approaching the station when westbound, and also when leaving for South Brookland crossing. He informs the Commissioners that no at-tention was paid to the petition and he equests that the police regulations be so amended as to stop this annoyance.

The complaint was referred to the Police Department for investigation and report and the Superintendent yesterday re-ported to the Commissioners that the blowing of whistles is made necessary by the block system operated by the railroad. I

He explains this by saying that targets display open or obstructed track by sig-nal and that such display is noted by engineers and indicated by the blowing of Such being the case, the Superintendent says the question arises whether the railroad company should be required to discontinue what may be an annoyance to the complainant, or whether the safety of the railroad traffic should depend on a changed railroad system. The Superin-tendent states that he is unable to recommend a remedy unless some relief may be had after conference with the railroad ficials who are entrusted with the lives of passengers and the property of ship-pers. By the suggestion of Commissioner Ross the matter will be taken up at the next meeting of the Board of Commission-

Louis L. Hooper, residing at 3200 Wis-consin Avenue, has complained to the commissioners of the dangerous condition of the telegraph pele in front of the Washington School. He stated that the pole was yery weak; that it swayed in the wind, and that in his opinion it would probably fall in the next sey re storm and might do much damage. Walter C. Allen, the Electrical Engineer, reported to the Commissioners yes-terday that the pole had been repaired and is now in a safe condition. The Commissioners have noted the in formation from the Electrical Dep ment and the complainant will be formed in accordance therewith,

S. F. Thomas, of 1232 New Jersey Ave nue, has complained to the Commissioners that a large pear tree standing in front of the house is a source of annoyance to him, and he asks that it be removed. He states that the roots from this tree have stopped up the sewer twice and that the removal of them has been a source of con-

this report to the Commissioners, recom mended that Mr. Thomas be informed that the occupant of the premises 1230 New Jersey Avenue is not willing to have the pear tree removed as requested, and that the District authorities do not think the circumstances justify the removal of the tree in opposition to his wishes. This recommendation the Commissioners have approved.

Dorens Chambers Sent to Jail. Doreas Chambers Sent to Juli.

Doreas Chambers, who was recently brought from Brooklyn on a charge of stealing various articles of jewelry from Miss Elizabeth Tyree, the actress, and who is now awaiting the action of the grand jury on that charge, was yesterday arraigned before Judge Kimball on three additional charges of larceny. She denied her guilt of the theft of a pair of glasses and a magnet from Walter P. Wilkins, but pleaded guilty to the larceny of an umbrella valued at 829 from Miss Tyree. She was sent to jail for six months after being being found guilty on all of the charges.
